Experience

Web3 Frontend Developer | Webstacky | Nigeria   July 2021 - Present

Webstacky is a web3 software development agency that builds decentralized applications for clients.

- Implemented and managed decentralized from concept through deployment.
- worked with a team of developers to completely recreate our entire site from scratch with React/Next.js. I adapted to the shift in technologies, learned them, and became a valued member on the team, solving problems and creating working solutions for the needs of the business.

Independent Frontend Developer   Nov 2020 - Present

- Implemented well-designed Figma designs from concept to pixel perfection.
- Learned and worked with multiple frameworks and libraries while developing projects, using frameworks to their strength to build standard projects
- Sought feedback from experienced developers and communities. I also give feedback, provide guidance, and review the codes of developers in the development communities I am part of.

Frontend Developer (Intern) | Zuri Team, Inc | Nigeria   March 2021 - July 2021

Zuri is a software development Bootcamp that trains developers by building real projects in groups.

- Collaborated with a team of developers in the project phase to implement the frontend interface of a crowdfunding application.
- Managed, developed, and designed a team of over 20 members in a two-week competition, held during the early stages of the internship. We were able to deliver 90% of the competition requirements.

UI/UX Designer (Intern) | HNG Internship | Nigeria   March 2021 - July 2021

HNG is an internship program that trains developers and designers by building and collaborating on real projects.

- Planned and designed websites and mobile applications
- collaborated with a team of 5 designers on a project to design a mobile app that tracks government expenditure using Figma.
